

New order

One of the larger gypsum board producers in the world has once again entrusted Cellwood Machinery to supply a new dispersing system. The system will solve issues with tacky contaminant bleed through as well as having a major impact on fiber strength and final board properties. This is the second dispersing system for this US based company.

For further information, please contact: sales@cellwood.se